

Identity in Mesopotamia, Sources and Methodology (2nd workshop)

3-4 November 2016

Maison de l'Archéologie et de l'Ethnologie – Bâtiment Max Weber

21 allée de l'Université, Nanterre.

Thursday 3rd of November (room 2, ground-floor, building Max Weber)

9h30 : welcome and coffee

10h00 – 11h00 : Louise Quillien « Garments and Gender Identity in 1st millennium BC Babylonia. »

11h00 – 12h00 : Terri Tanaka « Dress and Identity in Old Babylonian Literary Texts. »

12h – 13h30 : lunch break

– room 117D, 1st floor, building Maison de l'Archéologie et de l'Ethnologie

13h30 – 14h30 : Saana Svard « Another look at Arabian queens: Constructing identity in the Neo-Assyrian Empire »

14h30 – 15h30 : Cécile Michel « Ethnic Identity in Kanesh Lower Town? »

15h30 – 16h00 : coffee break

16h00 – 17h00 : Mustapha Djabellaoui « Territorial Identities and the Construction of Identities in Babylonia between 1030 and 689 BC ».

17h00 – 17h30 : discussion

Friday 4th of November (room 2, ground-floor, building Max Weber)

10h00 – 11h00 : Camille Lecompte : « Ethnic and Linguistic Identity in Mesopotamian Studies: the 3rd Millennium B.C. »

11h00 – 12h00 : Jay Crisostomo : « Linguistic Identities and Liturgical Compositions ».

12h00 – 13h30 : lunch break

13h30 – 14h30 : Catherine Breniquet « Can Archaeology Challenges the Problem of Sumerian Identity/ies ? »

14h30 – 15h30 : Niek Veldhuis « Scribal Identity in the Archaic Period ».

15h30-16h00 : coffee break

16h-17h00 : Louise Quillien & Terri Tanaka : Conclusion and general discussion

